

Rachel Paine, BA, MA, MPhilStud, Philosophy, University of London

www.philosophylives.com

Research areas

Medieval and Early Modern female philosophers, Simone de Beauvoir, Hannah Arendt; Everyday Aesthetics; Personal Identity; Embodied and Embedded Mind; Ethics; Descartes; Free Will.

Teaching

2011 - 2014: Tutor, Campbell Harris Tutorial Sixth Form College, London

2005 - present: Tutor, Oxford University Department for Continuing Education (OUDCE)

2015 - present: Tutor, The London School of Philosophy, Red Lion Square, London

Weekly classes:

Descartes's Passions of the Soul

Kant's Groundwork of the Metaphysics of Morals

Philosophy of Mind (Mind-Body problem and 4EA)

The Emotions

The Concept of the Self

Critical Reasoning

Female Philosophers on Freedom

Theory of Knowledge

Philosophy: Key Questions

Online courses:

Introduction to Philosophy

Introduction to Ethics

Philosophy of Mind

Theory of Knowledge

Philosophy of Science

Public lecture series / one week residential courses / one day workshops

2015: Moral Philosophy: Residential Week, The Oxford Experience

2014: The Open Self: 6 public lectures, OUDCE

2013 & 2014: Philosophy of Emotion: Residential Week, The Oxford Experience

2012: Four Women in Philosophy: Mary Wollstonecraft, Simone de Beauvoir, Hannah Arendt, Margaret Urban Walker, one day workshop

2012 & 2014: Philosophy of Mind/Concept of Self: residential week, OUSSA

2011: Philosophy of Emotion: 6 public lectures, OUDCE

Conferences / Festivals

2019: "How should we understand the concept of diversity?" Invited speaker, LSP Summer School

2016: "Philosophy and the Human Mind" invited speaker, OUP Festival at Blackwells, Oxford

2016: "Personal Identity: Memory, Narrativity and Concernful Dwelling" SEP-FEP Conference, Regent's Park College

- 2015: "What's memory got to do with it? Lessons from Locke on personal identity" Philosophy Now Festival, Conway Hall, London
- 2014: "Affectivity and Narrativity" SEP-FEP Conference, Utrecht University.
- 2012: "How Heideggerian is O'Regan and Noë's sensorimotor account of perception?" Sensorimotor Theory Workshop, Goldsmith's, U. London
- 2011: "Experience: What is it?" SEP-FEP Conference, York St John.
- 2007: "Emotion's Object: The Generality Problem for Intentionalism about the Emotions", Heythrop College Graduate Seminar
- 2007: Respondent to paper, "Counterfactual intervention and flickers of freedom: "What's really going on in Frankfurt Cases?" by Nadine Elzein, "The Good, the Right and the Feasible: London Forum in Moral and Political Philosophy". U. London
- 2005: "Descartes and the Animals: A bête noire of his own?" U. London Graduate Conference.

Publications

- 2020: "Gabrielle Suchon's Vision of the Good Life", The Philosophers' Magazine (forthcoming)
- 2019: "Was Hume a Secret Buddhist?" The Philosophers' Magazine, Issue 75, 2nd quarter 2019
- 2016: "4EA" in "50 New Ideas", The Philosophers' Magazine, Issue 72, 1st Quarter 2016.
- 2014: "Heideggerian Credentials? How Heideggerian is O'Regan's sensorimotor account of perception?" in Contemporary Sensorimotor Theory (2014) ed. M. Bishop and A. Martin, Springer.
- 2013: "I Want You to Be: Love as a Precondition of Freedom in the Thought of Hannah Arendt" in Thoughts of Love, ed. G. Peters and F. Peters, CSP, Cambridge
- 2010: Review of Descartes and the Passionate Mind by Deborah J. Brown, Heythrop Journal 52(1): 138-139.

Rachel Paine's website: www.philosophylives.com